The Strategic Improvement Process at Grendon

The Leadership Team, alongside our Governing Board, have identified through rigorous self-evaluation and external assessment, four long term strategic priorities for improvement. These will be the focus for school improvement over the next three years and ensure that we continue to drive the school forward to achieve our vision.

The function of our annual School Improvement Plan is to break down these long term strategic priorities into key areas for development for the academic years 2023- 2024, 2024 - 2025 and 2025 - 2026. Medium term plans for each key area detail actions, expected impacts and provide costings to illustrate how we will work towards our strategic priorities over the coming year. Medium term plans are evaluated at the end of the academic year and next actions identified for the following year.

To ensure the process is rigorous, robust and focussed, each medium term plan is further divided into two short term plans, fitting in with the school's monitoring and evaluation cycle. Short term plans detail small steps for improvement. Progress and impact is monitored and evaluated by school leaders at all levels and reported back to the full governing board each term.

Progress Towards Ofsted Key Issues from July 2019

Leaders and those responsible for governance should ensure that:

a. they continue to work with targeted families so that the rate of persistent absence is reduced further.

b. they continue to support all pupils to make strong progress in writing and mathematics, so that all pupils, including the most able and those who are disadvantaged, can achieve the progress of which they are capable of.

The impact of Covid 19 has had a significant impact on data during the last 3 years, but school has done all it can at every stage and throughout each lockdown to minimise the impact. To summarise:

Prior to Covid 19, the action we took was reducing persistent absence with data showing a fall from 15.5% (data from Summer 2019) to 12.85% (data from Autumn 2019). Data for the 18/19 academic year shows persistent absence at 9.5% (8.2% nationally) compared with 15.5% (8.7% nationally) for 17/18. The gap closed significantly as a result of effective action taken.

Once the pandemic hit and in line with guidance, school worked tirelessly to not only ensure that vulnerable children and children of critical workers attended school during closure, but that school opened on 1st June 2020 with all children in Reception, Year 1 and Year 6 being offered places. Although attendance was not compulsory and parents were not penalised for absence at this time, attendance data for June reflected our drive and determination. 19% of children were in school at this time, compared with a Department for Education estimate of 9.1% nationally. 41% of children with EHCPs or a Social Worker were in school, compared with 18% nationally.

During Autumn 2020, Ofsted's Inspection Data Summary Report highlights that overall absence at 5.7% and persistent absence at 14.6% was in the highest 20% of all schools, although when compared to schools with similar levels of deprivation that there

The impact of Covid 19 has had a significant impact on data during the last 3 years, but school has done all it can at every stage and throughout each lockdown to minimise the impact. To summarise:

Data from December 2019 showed that the majority of children were making strong progress in Maths, (51%), and Writing, (53%).

Data from December 2019 showed that gaps between children who are disadvantaged and their peers were closing. Between July 2019 and December 2019, gaps in attainment in Maths reduced or remained the same for 11 out of 12 classes as a result of accelerated progress made by this group. For Writing, gaps reduced or remained the same for 10 out of 12 classes, again indicating strong progress was made.

Data from December 2019 shows that for the most able, 94% in Writing and 92% in Maths made at least expected progress during the Autumn term although, when compared with all children, fewer (45% in Writing and 39% in Maths), made strong progress.

School closed on March 20th 2020 due to Covid-19 lockdown. Attendance wasn't mandatory again until September 2020. Baseline data from October 2020 showed children to be approximately 6 weeks behind where prior attainment indicated that they should be in Writing and Maths, with gaps having closed further and most children working where prior attainment indicated they should be by December 2020 in Maths. Gaps remained larger for Writing.

School closed again on 4th January 2021, with children returning just before the start of the Summer term. Data from July 2021 showed that:

In Writing, across the school, 56% were working at the expected standard with 14% at a greater depth. This was slightly above prior attainment forecasts and results from March 2020 (pre covid). This reflected the impact of the curriculum and interventions that year. It showed that children are working at the level that prior attainment indicated they should be, despite disruption to teaching and learning. What was also clear however, is that we hadn't been able to move children on term on term through high quality first teaching and effective intervention as was usually evident from our data. Progress scores and hence the value we add had been significantly reduced.

Writing was the subject where the impact of lockdown was evidenced the most and was compounded by the fact that judgements are was nothing significant or exceptional to report.

School closed again to most during from 4th January 2021. IDSR for Summer 2021 reports persistent absence at 18.7%, reduced from 25% for the first half of this term and overall absence at 6.7%. Again, both figures were in the highest 20% when compared with all schools, although when compared to schools with similar levels of deprivation that there was nothing significant or exceptional to report.

Attendance continued to be a school improvement plan priority for 2021/2022. High levels of Covid illness and absence during Spring 22 had a significant impact on attendance, given the absence periods that were required at this point. Checking daily figures for overall attendance released fortnightly from the DfE showed that school percentages were in line with national data. However, the impact of Covid illness and increased requests for Leave During Term Time, (holidays) on persistent absence is clear to see for the academic year 2021/2022. School data shows that 90 children, 24.2% of the school, had attendance over the year of 90% or below. The IDSR from 21/22 identifies that school remains in the highest 20% of all schools, but that there is nothing significant to highlight compared with schools with a similar level of deprivation.

2022/23 began with a total overhaul of attendance policy and practice and all advice was followed. Although our new Attendance Policy and the use of HEROS rewards has reduced the number of children arriving late for school, it has not been effective in reducing the number of children who are persistently absent. Although persistent absence is a challenge for all schools, our percentage of 25% for the academic year is above the national average of 17% for primary schools. This is too high and work must continue at a pace to reduce this.

Challenges that we need to overcome include:

- the impact of reduced timetables on attendance.
- the impact of children whose EHCP names specialist provision but remain on our role because no such provision is available.
- increased rates of genuine illness, for example school had 91 cases of chicken pox during this academic year.
- increase in requests for leave during term time. School received 53 request during the year and although almost all were denied and referred to the Local Authority for based entirely on teacher assessments and not test results. Changes to the curriculum, limited evidence during lockdown and missed teaching time had resulted in judgements being lower for writing than other subjects. There was also evidence that when children returned to school that the impact on progress and hence attainment was significant. Only 31% were working at expected standard in April 2021. Gaps were closed and percentages rose quickly as a result of high quality first teaching and effective intervention.

In Maths, across the school, 61% were working at at least expected standard, 16% working at greater depth. This was slightly above prior attainment forecasts and results from March 2020 (pre covid). This reflected the impact of the curriculum and interventions that year. It showed that children were working at the level that prior attainment indicated they should be, despite disruption to teaching and learning. What was also clear however, is that we hadn't been able to move children on term on term through high quality first teaching and effective intervention as was usually evident from our data. Progress scores and hence the value we add had been significantly reduced.

For disadvantaged pupils, gaps are continued to close as a result of effective intervention. In Maths gaps closed for 12 out of 14 classes and for Writing for 10 out of 14 classes. Children performed less well in writing. That matched results for all children and was the subject where the impact of missed teaching and learning is most evident.

For the most able, the impact of Covid 19 lockdown was clearly be seen, both in terms of children maintaining greater depth and in the progress they made. Data from July 21 showed 67% of more able children now working at a greater depth in Maths and only 56% in Writing.

However, what was also clear to see is that children had caught up during the year as a result of high quality teaching and learning and effective intervention. Percentages had increased since October 2020 baseline in all subjects, (54% in Maths and 51% in Writing). This is because the majority (53% in Writing and 50% in Maths) made strong progress. Despite this, where prior attainment indicated they should be, too many children are now not working at a greater depth in Writing and Maths. Further action is needed to improve attainment in writing.

Progress has continued to accelerate and gaps closed further during the 2021/2022 academic year, despite the significant impact that Covid illness and absence had on teaching and learning. Whole school data shows that in Writing, the percentage of children underachieving fell from 27% to 16% across the year and in Maths from 18% to 12%. The percentage working at or exceeding the expected standard rose from 51% to 56% in Writing and 61 to 64% in Maths as a result of this accelerated progress.

For disadvantaged pupils, in Maths gaps closed or remained the same for 11 out of 14 classes and for Writing 12 out of 14 classes. In July 21, it was identified that gaps were closing more slowly in writing than for reading and maths. It is pleasing that having targeted this subject, gaps closed more quickly than for other subjects by July 22.

For most-able pupils, the impact of Covid 19 lockdown can clearly be seen, both in terms of children maintaining greater depth and in the progress they are making. What is also clear to see is that children have caught up consistently, term on term as a result of high quality teaching and learning and effective intervention. Percentages have increased significantly since October 2020 baseline in all subjects with Summer 22 showing best progress rates since before Covid. Despite this, where prior attainment indicated they should be, too many children are now not working at a greater depth, particularly in Writing, where catch up is slower. Further action is need to improve attainment in writing. What is also important to note is that percentages working at a greater depth across the school have increased as a result of accelerated progress from other children, where prior attainment did not indicate that they were working at a greater depth.

This progress is reflected in KS2 SATS results from July 2022. Progress scores across KS2 in Maths was 1.7. In Writing, although this

finances wherever possible, this did not deter families from taking leave. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> attitudes towards schooling that have changed since the pandemic We have been proactive at every stage and continued to evaluate our practice. Our practice was evaluated as good and there was no further advice given. Although this reflects the national picture, we realise that this is not good enough. 2023/2024 sees us redouble our efforts to increase attendance and reduce persistent absence as we had been successful in doing prior to the pandemic.	score was -0.7, accelerated progress as described above has minimised the impact on standards reached. Progress has continued to accelerate and gaps closed further during the 2022/2023 academic year. Whole school data from July 2023 shows that: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> as a result of accelerated progress, more children across school are working at the expected standard than were doing so in July 2022. In Writing, percentages have improved from 51% to 59% and in Maths from 57% to 63%. Underachievement continues to fall. Between July 2021 and July 2023, children who had fallen behind the standard that their prior attainment indicated they should be working at, reduced from 27% to 9% in Writing and Maths. External data from Summer 2023 shows that: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Although national statistics are not released until November 2023, at the end of the EYFS school results showed significant improvement with 52% reaching a good level of development compared with only 34% in 2022. At KS1, percentages reaching the expected standard increased slightly from 47% to 50% in Writing. Maths results were in line with the previous year at 64%. Significant improvements were seen in greater depth results, that improved from 0% to 8% in Writing and 9% to 13% in Maths as a result of effective targeted support and intervention. Significant improvements were seen in the Multiplication Tables Check at the end of Year 4. 33% achieved full marks, compared with 24% previously and 80% scored 20 marks or higher, compared with 65% in 2022. Despite this success across school, KS2 results were not good enough. Whole school data shows that this is specific to this cohort and not embedded across school. Progress figures, although yet to be validated are -1.8 for Writing and -1.3 for Maths. Too many children failed to reach a score that was expected of them, despite progress being accelerated across Year 6.

Evaluation of School Improvement Plan 2022-2023

Long term Strategic Priority	Curriculum intent and implementation is clear, ambitious and embedded securely and consistently to ensure the best outcomes for all groups of pupils.	Pupils display positive attitudes and make a positive contribution to school life and the wider community.

Evaluation Sept 2023	Whole school data from July 2023 shows that: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> as a result of accelerated progress, more children across school are working at the expected standard than were doing so in July 2022. The whole school review and implementation of our new Behaviour Policy has been effective. Feedback from staff, pupils and parents all highlight that the changes that allow for recognition and celebration of excellent behaviour, have ensured all children are challenged to behave well. The new House System has added an additional level of engagement, with children achieving 5 points and 10 points for reaching 'Reward' and 'Exceptional' on the new 'Ready to Learn' behaviour system. Although most children behave well, for a small number, and usually where there are complex

	for pupils with SEND has continued to improve and that, alongside well-planned intervention has been effective in accelerating progress and closing gaps in learning. Our external SEND review in the Autumn term was positive and the action plan in place has improved provision further. We have submitted 8 EHCP and 13 SSPPs this year in total to ensure access to appropriate provision. Despite this, it remains challenging to provide and improve appropriate provision from all pupils with SEND across school. Despite effective partnership through the Special School Outreach Service and the Developing Local Provision project, we have children on role whose needs cannot be met through mainstream provision. Staff go above and beyond to support and parents remain supportive however, this means that reduced timetables remain in place for too many pupils and both attendance and performance data across school is affected by this.	and significant needs, this is a challenge. School responds in a rigorous and robust manner, Suspensions are used to best effect where behaviours shown are incompatible with the effective education of others. Our practice here is good. Risk Reduction Plans are in place for any child who has been suspended, or is at risk of suspension or exclusion and are adapted and shared with children and parents at a return to school meeting. School has not made the decision to permanently exclude a child for almost 3 years. Evidence from both our Monitoring and Evaluation schedule and from external review (SEND and Subject Peer Reviews) show that communication, resilience and independence Communication, resilience and independence are now central to Grendon's Goals, which have been developed as part of our new behaviour policy. As such, communication, resilience and independence are: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> displayed around school, on parent's leaflets and in each classroom as part of Grendon's Goals. taught explicitly and referenced in assemblies. rewarded in weekly 'congratulations' assemblies and explicitly at the end of each term in Grendon's Goals awards. taught explicitly during half termly Feel Good Friday sessions. used by children as marking symbols as part of our self and peer assessment strategy at the end of each lesson.
Future Actions Identified	Continue to reduce gaps between school and national data through quality first teaching and effective intervention. Focus needs to be on the following groups, as data suggests they perform less well than their peers: pupil premium, boys and pupils with SEND.	Continue to refocus and redouble efforts to improve attendance and reduce persistent absence.

Long term Strategic Priority	Pupils develop strength of character as a result of the high quality pastoral support and enrichment opportunities provided.	Leadership is clear and ambitious, providing high quality professional development for staff, high quality education for children and effective engagement with all stakeholders.
SIP Key Area for Improvement Year 3 2022-23	3.1 Further strengthen school's enrichment offer. 3.2 Implement and embed the whole school Wellbeing Strategy. 3.3 Raise profile of e-safety to ensure children are safe online.	4.1 Continue the development of best practice in curriculum leadership. 4.2 Further strengthen school's approach to monitoring and evaluation. 4.3 Sustain improvement in communication and engagement with all stakeholders and the wider community.
Evaluation September 23	Enrichment activities are well planned and embedded across our curriculum. 3 Whole School Days are planned at the start of the year and address subjects or issues that enable learning beyond the curriculum to occur. 3 Junior Leaders Days are organized by the Junior Leaders themselves to match their agenda decided once appointed at the start of the year. After school clubs have increased in frequency during the year with clubs offered most mornings and evenings. Feedback about these has been very positive, with all clubs being oversubscribed. Following feedback from parents, we have improved with breadth of clubs on offer and the age range targeted. The impact of our planned approach to all of the above, and our 2 residential trips, competitive sporting activities and calendar events is clear to see. Feedback from our Unicef Gold Award assessment highlighted Children are more aware of and engaged in community, national and global issues. This approach has ensured high levels of pupil involvement and engagement - they are proud to talk about what they have achieved. Our Whole School Wellbeing Strategy is in place, following training completed by our Senior Mental Health Lead. It's framework sets out clearly the focus that school already has on wellbeing and the actions that we already takes. It also sets out an action plan for further actions to be taken. It is now embedded within practice as one of Grendon's Goals is to 'nurture our health and wellbeing'. Survey results reflect its effectiveness. Parents surveys highlighted that 100% of respondents said their children was happy at school. For staff survey responses, 100% said that school was well led in this matter and out of a possible 304 responses to all questions there were only 10 'disagree' categories ticked. School has worked tirelessly to raise the profile of e-safety, with a whole school enrichment day, parents workshop in Year 5, one digital literacy unit in each year group in computing, a strong focus in the PSHE curriculum and an update of the e-safety pages on the website. Despite this, our older children still are not always aware enough of the risks that they face online and behaviour online, outside of school, remains an issue that we must deal with.	Subject Leaders have access to a range of support both from within school and, through a plan that prioritises development, outside CDP. Peer reviews conducted this year showed that Subject Leaders were increasingly confident in their roles and that self-evaluation was accurate. The quality of subject leadership has improved as a result. Leaders and all staff have worked together to develop a new Monitoring and Evaluation Cycle that will be in place from September 2023. Challenges identified from the previous system included: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • workload over a short period of time for leaders. • length of time of monitoring process from first activities to feedback and writing of staff development plans, (staff wellbeing & lack of immediate improvement). • a feeling that this was done to, and not with staff. • inequality between class based and PPA staff in terms of feedback. • foundation subjects had different monitoring options to core subjects. • monitoring in Oct & Feb left Summer term largely unmonitored. Leaders have worked to develop a system that: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • includes 10 foundation subject leaders, as well as the leadership team, efficiently. • engages staff further in this process. • increase staff roles and responsibilities - and do this efficiently with so many staff involved. • ensures all subject leaders and senior leaders continue to be able to make quality judgements for self-evaluation purposes, given any changes. • meets workload/wellbeing agenda. • ensures equality for all staff. The system will be reviewed by all staff in February 2024. Communication and engagement with all stakeholders and the wider community continues to improve. Parents survey results show 97% believe that communication is good. This has increased consistently from 80% in 2020.
Future Actions Identified	Safeguarding - continue to improve online safety and raise awareness of potential dangers.	Continue development of the use of social media.

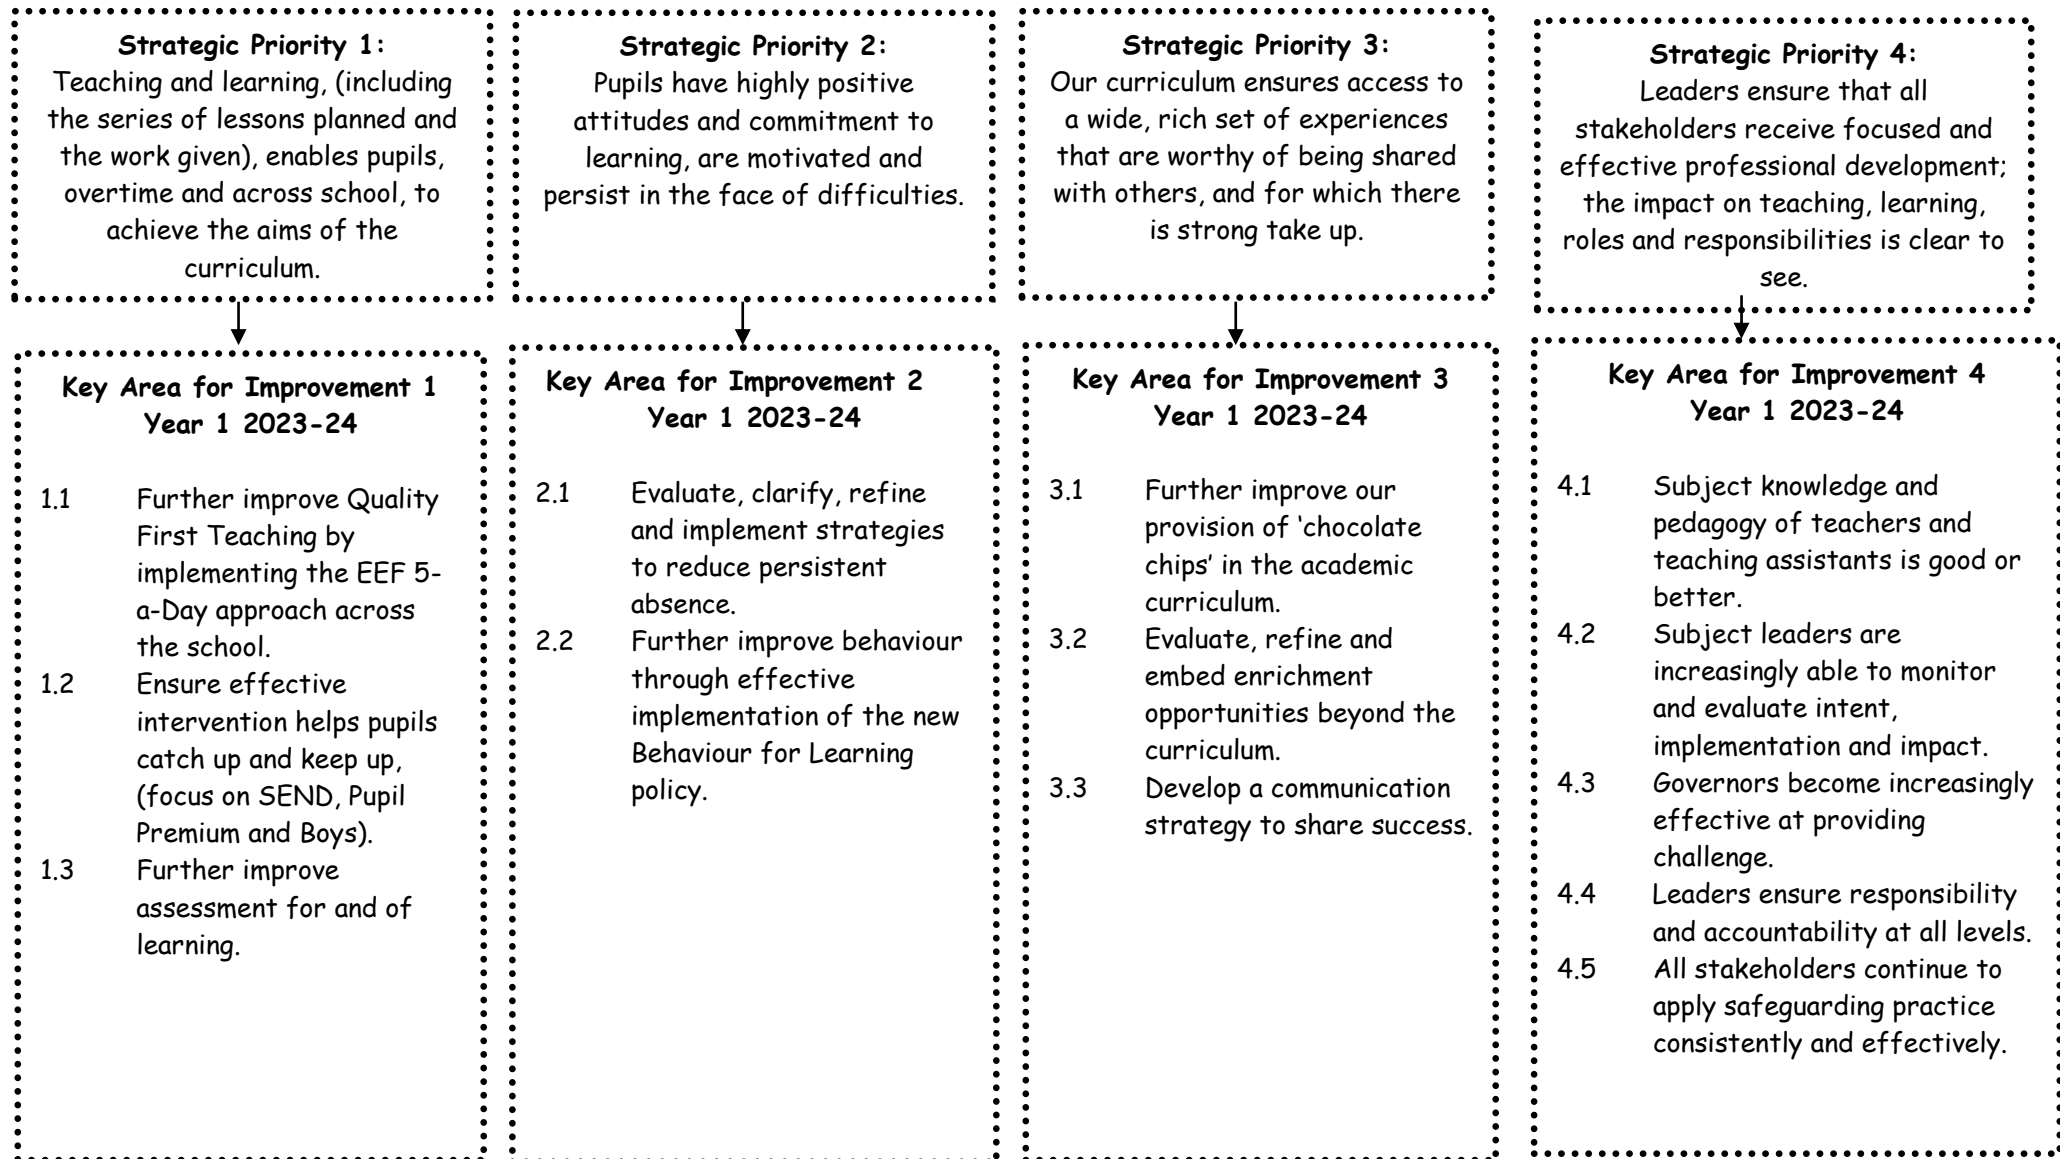

Long Term Strategic Priorities for Improvement 2023-2026

Key Performance Indicators that these priorities will address:
a)	Increase percentage of pupils reaching a Good Level of Development at the end of the EYFS.
b)	Increase percentage of pupils achieving the expected standard in reading, writing and maths at the end of KS1.
c)	Further accelerate progress of all groups of pupils in reading, writing and maths by the end of KS2.
d)	Reduce the gap between school and national for overall absence and persistent absence across all Key Stages.
e)	Reduce the rate of suspensions across all Key Stages.

Actions specific to the EYFS are threaded throughout our School Improvement Plan as it is essential that children in Reception are well prepared for the National Curriculum in KS1 and part of whole school cycles, plans and processes.

Key Areas for Improvement 2023-2024

Strategic Priority 1: Teaching and Learning, (including the series of lessons planned and work given), enables pupils, overtime and across the school, to achieve the aims of the curriculum.
